Approximately 40 people will arrive on Thursday afternoon and upon settling in, will enjoy refreshments and conversation. A dinner of organic vegetarian fare will follow. Speakers will provide a brief synopsis of their focus for the weekend over desert.

The next morning, presentations will begin with a Lakota Elder Cindy Catches giving an overview of Lakota spirituality and the history of Pine Ridge.

After a delicious vegetarian lunch, Alan Steinfeld, will present techniques on remote viewing and on developing our multidimensional consciousness in preparation for an evening of meditation and connecting to ET in the Badlands National Park surrounded by the extraordinary terrain of that mountainous region. Bring your warm clothes as the May nights in South Dakota can get chilly! The scheduling of nighttime activities will be weather dependent.

Following a scrumptious breakfast on Saturday, Barbara Lamb will present and explore what it means to be an ET/Human Hybrid, developing human and ET consciousness through contact, communication and collaboration with ET and others here on earth.

Our afternoon presentations include Kevin Briggs, who will cover his own experience as a contactee and how it has influenced his commitment to share information given to him by his ET contacts with other contactees and the general public at large, AND,

Mary Rodwell, will explore star seed children and the extensive work she has done with children and adults as they uncover their ET legacy and gifts.

Sunday morning will begin with breakfast and a trip to the Wounded Knee Memorial, the grave site of approximately 300 Lakota men, women and children.

Whitley Strieber will then present his work on connecting to other realms and loved ones who have passed over and the reality that all dimensions intersect.

Sunday afternoon will include a traditional Lakota feast with members of the Pine Ridge community joining us for a meal of sharing on all levels.
